ARID LANDS.

The Irrigation Problem in California.

Steps Being Taken for Its Scientific Solution.

Reports On the Situation From Many Sections of the State.

-What Has Already Been Accomplished in the Southern Counties.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The State Board of Trade Committee on Arid Lands held a meeting today at the Board of Trade rooms, Chair man Estee presiding.

Communications from C. P. Huntington and from E. W. Jones of Los Angeles were read, expressing regrets at their inability to attend the meeting.

Chairman Estee announced that he had commenced work on a schedule giving the names of all rivers and creeks in the State together with the area of watershed of each stream. The object of this is to enable the Government commission to locate the most desirable places for reservoirs from which irrigating ditches may be constructed. William Thompson of Reno, Nev., stated that nine-tenths of the waters of the streams of Nevada e,000,000 acres of land that can be irrigated, but only 140,000 acres are now artificially watered.

cially watered.

C. C. Wright reported that 17 irrigated districts have been organized in the State, embracing 2,000,000 acres, and that several more are in process of formation which will irrigate 500,000 acres more.

IN THE SOUTHERN COUNTIES.

At the afternoon session Frank Cunning-ham of San Diego submitted a report on At the atternoon session Frank Cunning-ham of San Diego submitted a report on irrigation in the southern part of the State, in which he stated that about one-fourth of San Diego county, or somewhat over 3,000,000 acres, lies west of the San Jacinto and San Diego range of mountains. Of this tract about 10,000 acres are irrigated, and an additional 10,000 acres are irrigated, and an additional 10,000 acres lie below the present irrigation works. On this westward slope, from the mountain range to the ocean, there are at least 500,000 acres of land adapted to irrigation. The contour of the country is subh as to afford many good reservoir sites, and there are still a number of streams whose water-shed is about 396,800 acres. The eight largest streams have water-sheds of over 7,000,000 acres. There are about 10 large irrigation projects in the country, and four are in active operation.

San Bernardino county, with an area of about 1600 square miles is, at the present time, he said, almost a desert waste, but a large portion of it, by the use of water, can be made very valuable. West of the San Bernardino Mountains, however, there are about 10,000 acres below the present water system.

Los Angeles county has an area of 2125 about 100,000 acres below the present water system.

Los Angeles county has an area of 2125 course miles much of which is desert of mountainous. The streams on the western slope in the county have been generally occupied, although very large additions can be made to the water supply by the use of artesian wells and tunnels. There are about 200,000 acres on this western slope good land for irrigation, and a large percentage is already helow the present irrigation works.

IRRIGATION ELSEWHERE. Jesse D. Carr submitted a statement con-cerning irrigation in Santa Cruz county. The annual rainfall there being sufficient

The annual rainfall there being sufficient, irrigation, he said, is not resorted to for the purpose of raising any kind of crops, only about 300 acres being irrigated in the county. The coast fogs are important factors in affording a supply of moisture for lanns under cultivations. The mountain streams are utilized for the purpose of supplying water to the several towns and clites in the county.

W. H. Mills in a communication suggested that the committee give some attention to what is lost by reason of the failure of crops owing to the absence of irrigation. The San Joaquin Valley, he said, succeeds with about two crops in five. The value of the three crops lost would place every acre in the valley under irrigation, in other the three crops lost would place every acre in the valley under irrigation, or, in other words, the loss in five years is equal to the cost of reclamation by irrigation.

W. S. Green of Colusa was added to the general Committee on Arid Lands, and L. H. Hall, W. H. Mills and George Manuel were appointed a commission to prepare a general article on the benefits of irrigation in this State. n this State.
The committee then adjourned to meet

VILLARD WINS.

BIG FIGHT OVER THE OREGON RAILWAYS.

The Transcontinental in the New Yorker's Grip-A Compromise as to the Navigation Company.

By Telegraph to The Times.

PORTLAND (Or.), June 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The annual elections of the Oregon and Transcontinental and Oregon Railway and Navigation Company were held to-day. Villard scored a success with the former, and a compromise was effected whereby the latter will be managed as part of the Union Pacific system, the Northern Pacific to have nothing to do with Northern Pacific to have nothing to do with it.

At the Oregon and Transcontinental election the Villard party voted 217,000 shares, and the Union Pacific interest, represented by Gen. Dodge, and G. M. Lane, and Elljah Smith representing the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company and Henry W. Corbett representing the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company and Henry W. Corbett representing the Portland Interest, voted altogether 189,600 shares.

The new Oregon and Transcontinental directory is as follows: Henry Villard, E. H. Abbott, Charles L. Colby, Joseph S. Decket, Colorde Hort, Charles H. Bayes C. A. Spofford and Hector H. Tyndale of New York; T. H. Bartlett, C. B. Beillinger, A. D. Charlton, S. G. Fulton, W. G. Hali, C. H. Prescott, Joseph Simon, Paul Schultze, George H. Williams of Portland. The directors reliceted the old officers.

At the Oregon Railway and Navigation election, Villard voted 133,000 shares. The following, agreed upon by Villard and Gen. Dodge, representing the Union Pacific, were elected: Charles B. Fosdyck, V. Mumford Moore, P. W. Smith and William P. St. John of New York; Henry B. Reed of Baltimore, Edmund Smith of Philadelphia, and H. W. Corbitt, Henry Falling, W. S. Ladd, C. W. Lewis, William McIntesh, John McCracken and W. Gibson.

in Saturday night Villard applied for an injunction in Judge Stearn's court to compel Smith as president of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company to count the Oregon and Transcontinental holdings in that company at the Oregon Railway and Navigation election. Smith made preparations to ask for an order restraining Villard from voting his Oregon and Transcontinental holdings. The two parties came together and had a conference until I o'clock this morning. Villard agreed to dispose of his Transcontinental holdings in the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, the object being to disperse them as widely as possible.

The roads north of Snake River, which possible.

The roads north of Snake River, which have been among the chief objects of contention, are to be taken when completed into the Oregon Railway and Navigation-system and will be operated as part of it. This will give Portland a direct line to the Ceur d'Alene mining region and another line to Spokane Falls. These agreements are based on the condition that the lease of the Oregon Railway and Navigation to the Oregon Short Lines and Union Pacific holds good, and that all the lines be operated as one, the Northern Pacific to have nothing to do with it.

one, the Northern Pacific to have nothing to do with it.

It was further agreed that the name of Prosper W. Smith, Elijah Smith's brother, be substituted for Frederick P. Olcott of New York in the Oregon Railway and Navigation directory. The understanding is that Edmund Smith of Philadelphia, formerly vice-president of the Peninsular road, is to be president of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company.

The new Oregon and Transcontinental Company met this afternoon and decided to abandon the proposition to issue $10,000,000 of preferred stock.

At the Oregon Improvement meeting the old directors were relected.

The Oregon Railway and Extension Company elected as directors Henry Failing, C. A. Dolph, W. H. Holcomb, H. W. Corbett, S. H. Lewis.

The Northern Pacific Terminal Company elected Henry Failing, S. H. Lewis, C. A. Dolph, W. H. Holcomb, Paul Schulz, Charles J. Smith, Robert Harris, R. Koehler and H. W. Corbett.

Villard left for the East via the Sound and Yellowstone Park this afternoon. He declined to talk about the election.

Senator Hoar's Hopeful Views. WORCESTER (Mass.), June 17.—Senator Hoar reached here yesterday, after his western trip with the Senate Committee on western trip with the Senate Committee on Trade Relations with Canada. He said the impression that the fortifications at Esquimalr, Vancouver, are a menace to the United States is unfounded, as the island has not the natural advantages necessary to make it a formidable fortification. He was satisfied that the ties of affection between Canada and the United States are a guarantee of peace.

Settlers Forced to Abandon Their Farms or Perish.

Immense Damage to Crops Along the

Rivers. Only a Few Persons Are Reported Drowned So Far, but the Worst Is Not Yet

By Telegraph to The Times.

IOLA (Kan.), June 17.—[By the Associated Press.] Allen county has suffered severely during the past 36 hours from floods in the Neosho River and its principal tributaries. The streams have been unusually high all the spring, and the heavy rains of Saturday night brought them out. rains of Saturday night brought them out of their banks, flooding the bottoms for a mile or more on either side. There has been no loss on life or of live-stock, and those living on the lowland were warned in time, but it is reared that hundreds of in time, but it is feared that hundreds of acres of wheat, which are just ripening and promised a very large yield, will be an almost total loss, while the submerged corn and other crops will be greatly damaged. The water reached the highest point on Monday morning, since which time it has been slowly receding, and it is now hoped the worst is past.

HUMBOLDT (Kan.), June 17.—The Necsho River is five miles wide at this point, but is falling. Ten thousand acres of wheat are ruined.

about the disaster in Kansas from wind and rainstorms are as follows: Uniontown, 15 miles west of Fort Scott, was swept away, and two women and four children were drowned. Uniontown is a place of 600 inhabitants, in the midst of a thickly-settled country. It is feared the loss of life is heavier than reported. As the wires are down 15 miles on either side, nothing definite can be learned.

The storm struck the western part of Bourbon county late at night, coming from the west, where it played great havoc. At Augusta it assumed the form of a cloud-buret. In Fort Scott it commenced raining Sunday morning very heavily. This caused a flood, carrying away several houses. The part of Fort Scott known as Billitown is entirely under water. Railroads are inundated and washed out.

WALNUT VALLEY INUNDATED.

ELDORADO (Kan.), June 17.—The upper valley of the Walnut is flooded from excessive rains. Streams are higher than for year. Saturday high the river came up you state the property of the family named Grains that the river came up you state the property of the highland, but mother and babe were drowned. The lather and one child escaped. Grain fields are flooded. Much damage must result. A portion of the Missouri Pacific track was washed away. There have been no trains in over the Santa Fé since yesterday. It is surmised a number of people drowned in the lower valley. The water is receding this morning. A later rumor reports the drowning of O. Beaman, in Cassady. ELDORADO (Kan.), June 17 .- The upper Leprosy in Nova Scotia Leprosy in Nova Scotia.

OTTAWA, June 17.—A few weeks ago it was reported to the Department of Health that there were cases of leprosy on Cape Breton Island, Nova Scotia. Dr. Smith, medical attendant at the leprosy lazaretto, at Trocadi, New Brunswick, was instructed to make personal investigation. His report shows three cases—two women and one man. They have been in daily contact with friends. They will be removed to Trocadi at once.

The Lutheran Church's Growth. PITTSBURGH, June 17.—In the Lutheran Synod today the report on church extension showed $83,098 received from all sources, or a larger amount than during any previous two years. The rapid growth of the church, particularly in the West, where many churches have been erected, required the appropriation of the whole amount.

SOME LIGHT THROWN ON THE CITY'S HAUMINATION.

The City Fathers Conclude to Distribute the Candle Power of the Tall Masts Around the City More Generally-Irregular Sew ers Vetoed.

When the City Council met yesterday morning, President Frankenfield and Councilmen McLain, Summerland, Bonsall, Shafer, Hamilton, Brown, VanDusen and Wirsching were present.

A communication from Mayor Haz ard was received, asking that an ordinance be drawn relieving the Mayor's Clerk from certain work in connection with the sale of water, which he is unable to attend to owing to a multiplicity of other duties. Referred to the Zanja Committee.

The Mayor returned without his approval ordinances for sewers along College, Yale, Cleveland, New Depot, Montreal, Alpine, Pearl, Rosas streets and Beaudry avenue, it being the pur-pose of the City Engineer to include them all in one system, covered by one

The Street Superintendent requested an amendment to the ordinance regu-lating the height of awnings, making it 8 feet instead of 10 feet. Agreed to. it 8 feet instead of 10 feet. Agreed to.

The Street Superintendent reported that he had seen the owners of property on Mott alley and they had refused to pave it at the intersection with the street. Referred to the City Attorney.

A protest from property-owners against the grading of a portion of Bellevue avenue on account of ambiguity in the ordinance was taken up.

On motion of Mr. Bonsall the Councillary of t cil rescinded all previous action in the matter, and the City Engineer was instructed to draft a new ordinance.

A QUESTION OF LIGHTS.
The Gas Light Committee recom mended the granting of a petition for an electric light at the northwest cormer of Washington and Bush streets.

Mr. Summerland said he had not asked for an electric light for six weeks, and this was urgent. He hoped the Council would grant the petition.

Mr. McLain thought a halt should be Mr. McLain thought a halt-should be called in the granting of these petitions. The city is paying $55,000 a year for lights. He wanted to see the Council not grant another light.

Mr. Bonsall said that a special committee is investigating the matter, and the Council ought to go slow until it reports.

Mr. Hamilton said the committee had only recommended three lights, and had not recommended any for some time. These lights he regarded

Mr. Bonsall said that it is not from the fact that the lights are not needed that he opposes the petition, but because the system is not in shape and there is no elect on the company. He thought the city is paying altogether too much now for the electric lights. There is not a city or town in the United States where there are not deductions on the bills except Los Angeles. The lights are not burning all the time. There ought to be an ordinance regulating the matter.

Mr. Hamilton did not understand how such an ordinance could be framed.

THE BANTA CASE.

MRS. BANTA HERSELF ON THE WITNESS STAND.

She Discloses a Repulsive Chapter of Domestic Infelicity-Banta's Bad Mining Speculation and What Followed It-Spiritus Frumenti and Other Drugs.

Considerable interest was manifested when Mrs. Mary G. Banta, widow of Isaac Banta, went on the witness-stand yesterday in the will contest case, and her testimony was very important, as evidenced by the strenuous efforts of Hon. S. M. White to break its force by a rigid cross-examination.

The case was resumed in Judge Clark's court in the afternoon, the morning session being occupied by the law calendar. At the time of adjournment Saturday afternoon the greater part of the witnesses examined had been citizens of Pasadena, and they had been questioned as to the weak-ness, mentally and physically, of Isaac Banta before his death. Their testimony established the fact conclusively that the old man had been of most dissipated habits; under the influence of stimulants and laudanum nearly all the time. Very little testimony had been introduced showing the attitude been introduced showing the attitude of William Pierce, the son-in-law, accused of influencing the old gentleman improperly to obtain exclusive control of the large estate.

Yesterday morning the first witness, William Defries, testified as to the frequency with which old man Banta got spiritus frumenti, laudanum and morphine. His room-mate, Louis Heitman kept the drug store at which the man, kept the drug store at which the drugs and spirits were asked for by Banta. Whenever Banta was in Pasa-dena he was a frequent customer at the drug store. The witness said that if he came once he came 500 times to the store, and always wanted opium, laudanum and morphine; but the witness never saw Banta get any other than spiritus frumenti.

Banta usually took a large drink. He would get mad when he couldn't get opium, and would go away.

The witness was questioned by Mr. White at some length, on cross-examination, but held his own, and created some amusement by the persistency with which be clung to the term "spir-with which be clung to the term "spirwith which he clung to the term "spir-

Albert E. Nicholls, a dentist, testified that Banta was in his office November 28, 1887. He came in intoxicated, and sank into the nearest chair He couldn't walk well. When in the He couldn't walk well. When in the office he was sitting in the chair dozing. He started up suddenly and said: "What a fine man my son-in-law Pierce is!" IMPORTANT MEETING OF THE

The Salaries of Teachers for the Ensuing Year Under Consideration-Offers of Lots for School Purposes-The School Libraries

The Board of Education met in regular session in the Council chamber last evening, with President Pomeroy in the chair and the full board present, with the exception of Messrs. McIntosh and Whaling.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, after which the reading of communications was proceeded with.

Applications for positions as ignitor were received from Bernard H. Maginley and J. J. Neimore, which were Offers of lots for school purposes were received and placed on file.

A communication was received call-ing attention to the necessity for a schoolhouse on the hills north of Bellevue avenue, somewhere in the neighborhood of Alpine and Pearl streets. The communications were also very severe on the Castelar-street school, on account of the unhealthfulness of the site.

A number of additional applications for positions as janitor were also received and placed on file.

A communication was received from the middle class of the Normal School, inviting the board to attend the commencement exercises of that class next Saturday, the 22d, which was accepted.

The Finance Committee presented its report, laying the account of teachers and janitors' salaries before the board. amounting to $14,592. The charman stated that the salaries were not yet due, but that the schools would close before the next meeting, and the teach-before the next meeting, and the teachers wanted the matter so arranged that they could get their money at that time. On motion the salaries were allowed, as were a number of other bills which were in due form.

Mr. Whaling came in at this point and took up his accustomed place at the reporters' table, as did also Mr. McIntosh, who occupied his usual desk.

The proposition was submitted by I. Sloan to release certain real estate pur-chased at a tax sale on the payment of $14, the amount paid out, but the offer was declined and the papers ordered returned.

Mr. Ellis, chairman of the Teachers' Mr. Ellis, chairman of the Teachers' Committee, reported that applications for positions as teachers had been received as follows: Miss Ada Dryden, Miss B. Preuss, Miss A. Weir, Miss I. Collins and Mrs. C. J. King. The following had been selected as substitute teachers: Misses M. L. Benedict, E. L. Hollenberg. Charlotte Conlin, Hamilton, M. J. Supt. Friesner also favored the plan, when Mr. Ellis stated that the law is that the books should be left in the school buildings, and a motion was made that the matter go over for two weeks until it could be ascertained whether this action on the part of the board would be legal. This motion was lost, and the matter was left open, to be decided at some future time.

The Committee on Classification reported against the petition of the French residents that that language be taught in the public schools, on the ground that there is now as much work as can be attended to, and if French were introduced, the Spanish and German speaking people in the community would probably put in the same sort of a claim. The report was adopted.

In the matter of the high-school plano, the committee reported in favor of allowing the balance due, $258, which was adopted.

needed during the coming vacation, which was referred to the Committee on Buildings and Repairs with power in regard to non-partisan appointments of teachers, and spoke at length its support, but it went the way of all of Mr. Whaling's resolutions, and failed for want of a second.

Mr. Powers offered the following resolution.

Resolved, that it is the sense of this board that in the election of teachers for the next school year there shall be no discrimination on account of sex, but so far as practicable it shall be the policy of this board to elect male principals of city schools of having more than four school rooms.

After the usual discussion, in which almost every member had something to say, as is customary, the resolution was Adjourned till Friday morning next at 10 o'clock in the Superintendent's office.

JUDGE SULLIVAN.

A Pleasant Reception Given Him Last Night.

Judge J. F. Sullivan of San Fransco was accorded a public reception at the Los Angeles Theater last night on the occasion of his visit to the city. A pleasant musical programme had been arranged, together with an address by Hon. S. M. White and one by Judge Sullivan. The reception was given under the auspices of Young Men's Institutes Nos. 14 and 36 of Los Angeles, and the theater was packed up stairs and down. It was in fact a rousing reception, both as to numbers and enthusiasm. Upon the stage when and enthusiasm. Upon the stage when the curtain went up, were sitting Judge Sullivan, Hon. S. M. White, J. P. Mo-ran, chairman of the evening, Mr. Doty of Sacramento, and quite a num-ber of officers of the Young Men's Inboty of Sacramento, and quite a number of officers of the Young Men's Institutes.

Mr. Moran made a brief statement of the reason for the assemblage, saying that it was in honor of Judge Sullivan, who had come to Southern California during a vacation from his labors, and who was deeply interested in the Y.M.I. work.

There was an instrumental duet by Misses Mansfield and Cooke, nicely executed, and Miss Mary Cowper sang a solo very prettily. She was followed by James Sullivan in a solo.

Mr. White was then introduced to the audience, and made a short but brilliant address, eulogistic of the guest of the evening. He referred to boyhood days, when he and Judge Sullivan went to school together in San Francisco. He characterized the Judge as a man who through boyhood, youth and manhood had remained always the same to his friends. Those who were his friends in boyhood are his friends today. He spoke of the distinguished career of his friend, and referred to him as a man who had been intrusted with grave responsibilities for so young career of his friend, and referred to him as a man who had been intrusted with grave responsibilities for so young a man. The people, he said, had learned to believe that in Judge Sullivan they had found a man who could be trusted, and he had so borne himself on the bench that they had not been deceived. Mr. White was more than ordinarily enthusiastic in his remarks upon the visitor, and was loudly applauded at frequent intervals.

At the conclusion of the address of welcome Judge Sullivan was presented

At the conclusion of the address of welcome Judge Sullivan was presented to the audience, and addressed it principally upon the formation and spirit of the Y.M.I. His pleasant, resonant voice and easy manners gained him a sympathetic hearing from the start, and he was closely followed as he described the organization, the badge of which adorned his coat.

In starting out, he said that he fairly felt he could not claim the greeting as due to himself alene, but more on ac-

The following reported as the salaries for the ensuing year: For first year teachers and those in the third-class, $80; for second-class teachers, $90, with $10 additional when they act as assistant principals; for principals of less than four schools, $95; for four schools and less than eight. $115; for eight schools or more, $125, $5 per room to be added in each case for janitors; principal High School, $135; High School teachers, $116; drawing teacher, $165; music teacher, three days each week...*100; teacher of penmanship $25; supermement of janitors, $115; assistant superintendent of janitors, $115; supermement of janitors, $115; supermement of janitors, $115; supermement of janitors, $10; superintendent, $125; substitute teacher clerk, $90. Substitute teachers to receive the same compensation as the teachers for whom they are acting. The report caused considerable discussion, in which Mr. Whaling made an address, taking exception to the report, saying that the salaries of the superintendent and his assistant were too high and those of the teachers too low, and he wanted the supernumera-fulness manifested in them, and the interest shown by the large assemblage. He wound up by a graceful tribute to the power of women in assisting in the work of popularizing and building up the Institutes, and said that in many instances he found those succeeding best where the women worked along with the men by their Aid Societies. The beneficiary adjuncts to the organization consist of a sum to be paid to a beneficiary named by the member before death, and to be taken care of in sickness.

Mr. Woodbury stated that the Los Angeles Theater had been secured for the commencement exercises of the Boys' High School on the 25th inst. when President Pomeroy will preside and confer the diplomas.

The matter of the location of the schoolhouse on Boyle Heights was called up, and a delegation from the Heights addressed the board, advocating the site at the corner of Grand avenue and Cornwall street, in place of Soto street and Wabash avenue.

Mr. McIntosh, under the head of new business, reported that the Boyle Heights matter had been investigated, and a report would be sumitted at the next meeting.

Mr. Whaling introduced a resolution, in regard to non-partisan appointments of teachers, and sooke at length with the schould be accounted by the comments of the comments of the committee of Arrangements were: F. Sweet William.

Williams, the smooth young swindler, passed a very quiet day in the jail yesterday, devoting his time principally to blackguarding the newspapers and reporters for having shown him and reporters for havin pally to blackguarding the newspapers and reporters for having shown him up. The fellow has about thrown off his disguise, and is coming out in his true character, that of a tough and hoodlum. The Farmers' and Merchants' Bank yesterday received a telegram from the bank at Clearwater, stating that the draft would not be paid. From this it would seem that Mr. Williams's chances for a lengthy sojourn at San Quentin are very favorable.

PRESIDENT STRONG AND PARTY IN THE CITY.

Yesterday Devoted to Looking Over the Company's Lines-General Impressions-The Meeting to Be Held Today - Will Something Pop?-A Rate War Discussed.

President William B. Strong of the Santa Fé system and party arrived by Mr. Strong's special on the over land yesterday afternoon, at 4:20 o'clock. This is the first time Mr. Strong has been on the coast for two years, and he will spend some days looking over the various improvements that have been made on his road since he was here. This morn ing at 9 o'clock the stockholders of the California Central and California Southern will meet in the Treasurer's office in the Phillips block. It was believed by the local officers yesterday that the meeting will be a very short one, as everything is cut and dried. It is not known whether any changes will be made in the manage ment of the various departments or not, but there has been a great deal of talk during the past few months, or since Mr. Wilkins was removed. It is since Mr. Wilkins was removed. It is said that Mr. Strong's principal reason for coming to the coast at this particular time is to arrange for the reception of the China steamers, which are expected to arrive early in July.

This will be an important event in the history of the Santa Fé Company, for the road has been losing money on this coast for several years, and big consignments of freight will prove a great thing for the company.

Mr. Strong is highly pleased with the condition of affairs, and from what he could see yesterday afternoon he is the condition of analis, and from what he could see yesterday afternoon he is confident that business is much health-ier on this coast than in many of the eastern cities. It has been dull every-where since the election last fall, but things are beginning to pick up, and he is of the opinion that this fall and winter will see a revival in business that has not been equaled in years.

A SANTA FE STRIKE. There was quite a little strike on the Santa Fé yesterday, and it would have been quite serious had not the managers given way to the employés. The matter was kept as quiet as possible all day, and only leaked out last night. It seems that an attempt was made to change the day switchmen at Barstow and San Bernardino to the night shift. The men objected, "more for mischief than anything else," it is said, but when the managers insisted on carrying out the rule, they decided to go out on a strike, and yesterday morning the men in this city refused to go out. The local officers got together as quickly as possible, and decided to give way to the men, when the strike was declared off and the men went to work last night. Some of the men have been looking for a chance to go on a strike for some time, and probably thisl ittle flutter will satisfy them. At any ra'e, the president of the company is here, and he will have an opportunity to hear their complaints and adjust matters all along the line.

other rate war. Since the Southern Pacific drew out of the Transcontinental Association several other big roads have pulled out, and local railroad men are of the opinion that there is a "nigger" in the wood pile. Some railroad men claim that a rate war is a good thing for the companies, as it gets people in the way of traveling and they keep it up for some time after the rates have been put back to their old figures.

On the other hand, there are a great many who claim that wars of this nature are injurious not only to the railroad people, but also to the whole country. They claim that a lot of paupers are brought to the country, who are of no benefit to themselves or anybody else. A railroad man who has had a great deal of experience in passenger business said to a Times reporter vesterday.

ceive the same compensation as the teachers for whom they are acting.

The report caused considerable discussion, in which Mr. Whaling made an address, taking exception to the report, saying that the salaries of the superintendent and his assistant were too high and those of the teachers too low, and he wanted the supernumeraries cut off.

Mr. Ellis replied at some length in defense of the report, which he said had been carefully prepared and thoroughly considered, and he believed that it represented the opinion of a majority of the board.

After a rather lengthy debate, the adoption of the report was postponed until Friday morning next, at 10 o'clock.

Maj. Frew said that there had been a proposition on the part of the City Library to take charge of the school libraries, and he therefore moved that they be transferred to the City Library.

Mr. Hanchette, on behalf of the trustees, said that they would take care of them, and furnish suitable accommodations for them.

Supt. Friesner also favored the plan, when Mr. Ellis stated that the law is that the books should be left in the school bluidings, and a motion was made that the matter to over for two weeks until it could be ascertained whether this action on the part of the board would be legal. This motion was lost, and the matter was left open, to be decided at some future time.

A VIGOROUS KICK. Merchant's Wife the Bone of Contention

A well known merchant who has been greatly benefited by Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, de-sired to give it to his wife, who was very delicate, but out of caution first consulted his physician Dr. W. H. Griswold of 850 Market street. The doctor, who is one of our leading practitioners objected, saying he had never seen a sarsa-parillathat did not contain potash, which thinned the blood; that his patient did not have any vitality to lose, and that what delicate people need is not decreased vitality, but more blood. He however consented when assured that Joy's He nowever consented when assured that boy by Vegetable Sarsaparilla was directly opposed to the old mistaken blood thinning idea of other sarsaparillas, and that on the contrary by specific vegetable alteratives it stimulated the excretory organs, promoted digestion, and repaired nutrition, hence created new blood and was the nutrition, hence created new blood and was the very thing for feeble people. The above explains the hundreds of cases in which aged, enfeebled, delicate and run down people, have been built up by Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla after the potash sarsaparillas failed. FLOODS AND FORESTRY.

Now that the attention of the people of the United States has been so strikingly drawn to the question of floods, it may not be so difficult as it has hitherto been to attract some attention to a great and important cause of floods-the denudation of our forests. Much has been written our country are so vast-so apparently limitless-and the dangers predicted apparently so far in the future, that it needed a severe shock to awake us from our fancied security.

> The manner in which our forests. upon watersheds, are being cut away, regardless of system or possible co sequences, is a great and ever increasing danger to the lowlands. England, Germany and other older countries have been taught by necescessity to exercise State superover the forests. Switzerland, whenever a tree is cut down, two young trees have to be planted. In that country there are many other quaint but useful regulato maintain the growth of for-.No. 453 ests, such as a law for the planting of a certain number of trees at every wedding. In this country Arbor Day has become an established featureand a most excellent one it is-but it does not take the place of a systematic State or Government supervision of a matter that very nearly concerns the welfare of the people at large, changing, as it does, the climatic conditions of large sections of country.

It would be a good thing to have Government timbered lands set apart at the headwaters of our large rivers as permanent parks. Unless something of this sort be done it is believed by many careful observ-ers that the Mississippi, Missouri and other large rivers will in twenty-five years cease to be navigable. The mosses and rootlets of forests act as reservoirs. When the trees are cut and destroyed, the mosses dry up, and heavy rainfalls sweep down in torrents, often occasioning great damage. A few years ago lumbermen in the Adirondacks cut every tree and bush, which course threatened, if persisted in, the navigation of the Hudson. Agitation of the subject has resulted in making the lumbermen of New York the best friends of forestry. They learned that by cutting no tree less than ten inches in diameter, in fifteen years they had another crop, and now follow that rule.

Here, in Southern California, we have constantly before our eyes exemplifications of the consequence of emoving the trees from the watersheds of rivers. Our streams, which mostly run through bare hills and valeys, are dry nine months in the year, and swollen for a short time after a rainfall, during the wet season, running over their banks after an espe cially heavy storm. Were it not for the very moderate rainfall in this section, we should be in constant danger

It is time that our Federal and State its fully recognize the importance of supervising the clearing of our timber lands, and pass such laws as prudence dictates and experienc has taught.

DOWN ON THE PROHIBITIONISTS

Brother Kearney of the San Bernar lino Courier is evidently not a Prohibitionist. Taking for its text a black guardly attack made on the Rev. Howard Crosby of New York by the San Francisco Voice, because that gentleman is disposed to favor practical high license rather than impracticable pro hibition, the Courier is aroused to ex-GREENVILLE, Ill., of which Dr. press itself in the following very muscular language:

The time has passed for ignoring them. This inflammatory fanaticis spirit must be stamped out or it will work incalculable injury in the country, and especially in California. The idea that such a snivelling, senseless sentiment should be permitted to grow in a region marked out by Almighty God for the cultivation of the grape, is too preposterous. It is time, full time, that men of sense in authority and among those who form public opinion, were acting like men of sense in their treatment of this demoralizing crusade. Why, until recently, for several months, a stupid, a vicious, a fanatical ordinance practically prohibited the serving of a glass of our own native wines in our restaurants, even at meals. Are we men of sense, or of stupid, cowardly louts to bow down in subminical interference with our personal rights? What brought such an unspeakable ordinance into effect in San Bernardino? Why, the idea among those that made it that San Bernardino was "ripe" for that commencement of a fanatical era and the public opinion was already debauched by the canters and the prattiers and the Packsniffs, the fools in economics and the public opinion was already debauched by the canters and the protection of the p It is time that every editor who despises cant, rant, vulgarity, venom and inflamma-

THE decision of the Los Angeles banks to close at noon on Saturdays after the 6th of next month is a good one. It will afford their employes a little more leisure, and customers will be able to adapt their business to the new rule without any serious inconvenience. The Saturday half holiday is a great feature in London, where the city is almost deserted after 2 o'clock on that day, business men and employés taking a run into the country from Saturday to Monday. The work of the week is done all the better for the extra breathing spell. SHOOTING AFFRAY. A Legless Professional Beggar in

Yesterday morning about 11 o'clock the Home Mansion, a lodging-house on Fifth street, near the Southern Pacific depot, was the scene of a sensational shooting affray, in which the usual woman in the case figured. The man who did the shooting is Alfred Norman, a legless individual who some weeks ago was a familiar figure on the streets, wheeling himself about in a tricycle and playing an accordion, at tricycle and playing an accordion, at the same time gathering in shekels from the charitably disposed. The man who got shot is a young baker named A. C. Bertrand, and the cause of the shooting is a young woman named May West, who came here with Norman as his mistress. According to the girl's story, Norman seduced her in Baltimore Norman seduced her in under promise of marriage, after which she traveled about with him over the country, while he pursued his calling as a professional beggar, she in the meantime being an inmate of houses of meantime being an inmate of houses of ill-fame. The pair finally wound up in Los Angeles, and about two months ago Norman left her and went north, throwing her on her own resources. During his absence she met Bertrand, and went to live with him. When the legless Lothario returned and found that he had been supplanted by the baker, he raised a row, and informed the girl that she had to return to him or die. She refused, and yesterday morning he went to her room and demanded admittance, which was refused, whereupon he drew his revolver and fired two shots through the door, one of which took effect in Bertrand's one of which took effect in Bertrand's wrist, inflicting a slight flesh wound. Officer Rulo was called in and arrested Norman, who was brought to the station and lo ked up on a charge of assault to commit murder. PICKING UP CLEWS.

Cronin's Murder Chicago's One Topic.

The Grand Jury Still Listening to Testimony.

An Important Arrest Made by Winnipeg Officers.

The Identification of Maroney and McDonald at New York Falls Completely and They Are Freed.

By Telegraph to The Times. CHICAGO, June 17.—[By the Associated Press.] The Grand Jury today resumed its investigation of the Cronin murder.

Among the witnesses examined was Harry Brown, clerk and junior partner of Alexander Sullivan. Much the same questions as those propounded to Mr. Windes on Saturday were put to him. His testimony was of a very negative character, but clearly established the fact that Sullivan's substituted by the same properties of the heads. clearly established the fact that Sullivan's relations as a lawyer and as an Irish leader were distinct and separate, and that his duties in the latter capacity were never allowed to interfere with or become merged in the business transactions of the firm. Andrew J. Duggan testified at length of his alleged knowledge of lawyer. Beggs's enmity to Cronin. Beggs is Senior Guardian of the Clanna-Gael camp which is said to have tried Cronin for treason. Beggs himself testated next. He disavowed all enumy to Cronin, and insisted that while he had regarded the Doctor as visionary and, Indeed, somewhat fanatical at times, they were really on terms of personal triendship.

T. P. O'Connor, an active member of the Clanna-Gael, and one of Cronin's intimate friends, testified that he was at one time approached by an agent of the Triangle and notified to prepare himself for a "secret mission" to Great Britian in behalf ofethe "Physical Force" societies. O'Connor was warned by Cronin not to obey the mandate, an intimation being given that it was a snare to get him out of the way and Government. Two of the members of the firm of Les ter & Co.. brokers, testified again as to Alexander Sullivan's speculations.

George Beckwith, of Lake View, testified that about April 8th, a man giving his name as Mulcahey walked into his store at Lake View and engaged in conversation. He corresponds to the description of the man who hired the Carlson cottage. He told Beckwith he was an Odd Fellow and a relative of O'Sullivan, the ice man. Mulcahey borrowed $10 on the strength of his Odd Fellowship. He claimed to hail from Fonda, Iowa. Beckwith saw him some time later on one of O'Sullivan's ice wagons.

Mulcahey was arrested today and Beckwith identified him. He was afterwards released, but is under surveillance.
Immediately after the discovery of Cronin's body O'Sullivan's icehouse and the Carlson cottage were photographed. Mar-tin Burke, who was standing near the icetin Burke, who was standing near the icehouse at the time was inadvertently photographed. This same Burke is now said to be under arrest at Winnipeg on a charge of being one of the Williams brothers who rented the Carlson cottage, and the man who hired the express wagon to move the furniture from the Clark-street flat to the cottage. The photograph was shown this afternoon to the Carlsons. Old man Carlson thought he recognized Burke, but his wife and son were Lot sure. The photograph is imperfect and somewhat clouded.
The jury debated for some time the advisability of indicting Burke at once in order that steps may be taken at once for his extradition. It was finally resolved, however, to defer action until the expressman, who was sent to New York to identify Maroney

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

Much-wanted Man Captured at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg. June 17.—[By the Associated Press.] Last night the Chief of Police arrested Martin Burke, alias Delaney, wanted for complicity in the Cronin murder. He was boarding the eastern express, and had a ticket for Liverpool.

Burke retained counsel, and has determined not to voluntarily return to the States. He denies all knowledge of or comwas merely making a trip to Ireland via Winnipeg. He refuses to say anything further or to see any person other than counsel. The police are instructed by the Chicago authorities to hold him by all neans, as he is a principal.

All the marks on Burke's linen and books and the marks on Burke's linen and books and the papers found on his person had been obliterated. A name on the band of a hat found in his valise, resembling that of Cronin, had been smeared over with ink.

MRS. SULLIVAN TALKS.

She Has Unshaken Faith in Her

Husband. London, June 17.- By Cable and Asso ciated Press. Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, wife of Alexander Sullivan of Chicago, spending a few days with friends in London says that while she is deeply pained at the falsehood of the imputation implied in as ociating her husband's name with th Cronin mystery, her knowledge of her husband's absolute ignorance of the crime sus-tains her as far as the sensation relates to her husband. She says she sees in it Chi-cago newspaper rot, composed partly of antiquated calumnies, whose untruth was her husband. She says she sees in it Chicago newspaper rot, composed partly of antiquated calumnies, whose untruth was shown years ago, and partly of malignant aspersions of personal and political enemies, whose motives Chicago editors do not appreciate. She deeply deplores Cronin's death, and says the presumption that her husband had a personal interest in his death rests upon an error which for the time may justify censure. This error will be perfectly shown hereafter. Those who now condemn her husband will be generous in acknowledging his patience and fortitude.

those ships. The Vandalia's accounts were lost; new rolls were therefore opened dating from the disaster, and there has been an issue fore opened dating from the disaster, and there has been an issue of the money accrued to the credit of the men since that date. The amounts due prior to the wreck must undergo adjustment by the accounting officers of the Treasury. It is said at the department that if any of the Vandalia's men are "knocking about San Francisco," as described, they must be stragglers without leave, or men "on liberty," amusing themselves according to their wont. The law authorizes a settlement with enlisted men in cases of casualty whereby a ship may have been sunk, to gether with the rolls and papers, based upon the last quarterly accounts received at the Treasury; and also provides for the paying the last quarterly accounts received at the Treasury; and also provides for the paying to petty officers, seamen and others not of-icers, whose personal effects have been lost, a sum not exceeding 80 each.

ILL-TREATED WARDS.

The Hampton Indian School Severely Criticised.

WASHINGTON, June 17 .- [By the Associated Press. Some time ago Rev. Dr. Childs, at the request of Secretary Noble went to the Hampton Indian school, and quietly investigated complaints in regard to the management of the Indians which had been brought to the attention of the

Dr. Child's report was to the effect that the food given the Indian boys was not good, and the Indians complained that con-tributions made for their benefit were used for the benefit of negroes of the school. Dr. Childs also animadverted severely upon the use of a noisome dungeon or guardhouse built in the basement under the offices of the institution.

Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, chairman of the Board of Indian Commissioners, sent two members of the board to Hampton, who made a report contradictory to Childs.

Dr. Childs has written a letter to Gen. Fisk, in which he says that it is evident there were things which needed correction, from the fact that they were corrected after his investigation, and the Indians sent a representative to this city to return thanks for the improved condition. As to the immuring of Indians in a dungeon, he says he is amazed that the board c.n defend this mode of disciplining Indian children.

It is understood that Secretary Noble has decided that cell punishment shall not be inflicted hereafter.

MEDICINAL.

The Waters of Owens Lake on Sample.

Al Workman has brought down from Owens Lake 20 gallons of the peculiar borax water of the lake. which, he says, has strong medicinal properties, and is especially good in skin diseases. It is known that the water contains in solution borax, magnesia and iron, but a careful analysis will be made to show the proportions of each and any other mineral ingredients. The water is of a brownish-red color, like tea.

Mr. Workman says that the lake is 6 miles wide and 13 or 14 miles long. Owens River, Cottonwood Creek and several other streams run into it, but the lake has no known outlet. Many years ago there was a hard earthquake shock in that country and for several weeks there were strange noises com-ing from the middle of the lake. The Indians thought it was a great spirit Indians thought it was a great spirit raising a ruction, but Mr. Workman is rather disposed to think that there might be some cavern which furnishes a subterranean outlet for the lake, and that the noise was caused by the water rushing in or the air or gases rushing out. Nothing in the bird or animal line lives on the lake or on its margin, except a worm that burrows along the shore, which the Indians used to catch for food in early times.

"Mr. Workman says It is difficult and expensive to obtain the Owens Lake water now, but if the new rail-way to the northeast is constructed it will skirt the lake for several miles, for food in early times. will skirt the lake for several miles, and the water may be easily transported. He has an idea that it may become popular for medicinal uses. It is great for cuts and bruises and squelches a nettle rash in no time.

Mr. Workman left a bottle of the liquid at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, and he took another to Secretary Ward of the Board of Trade, which bore the following unique label in Mr. Higgins's fine Italian hand:

PREPARING TO LEAVE.

A Woman Apprehensive About Her Husband.

Last evening, shortly after 7 o'clock, a woman very much excited came into the police station looking for the Chief. She said that her name was Mrs. Bershe said that her name was Mrs. Bernard, and that she was the wife of a contractor who lived at the corner of Eighth and Los Angeles streets. She wanted her husband arrested, she said, as she was afraid that he was preparing to sell out his property and desert her. He had taken all of his teams to Chick's stable, she said, and had refused to pay his help. Mrs. Bernard said that her husband had assanlted her last week, and beat her assaulted her last week, and beat her cruelly, and had told her that if she did not let him alone he would give her another dose. The officers told her that she would have to seek relief in the courts, as it was not a case in which the police could interfere.

Instead of calling in a physician to attend the case in a regular manner, the parents sent for a faithhealer, and a woman of that persuasion visited the house and endeavored to cure the child by prayer. While she prayed the little fellow was growing gradually worse, and after her utmost efforts had been put forth he choked to death. He died early Sunday morning.

He Fell Before Bennett's Fog-horn

[Chicago Tribune-1]

James Gordon Bennett, while at Monaco, just before his late departure for Egypt, had a quarrel with the princely ruler of that famous gambling princely ruler of that famous gambling resort, and the princeling gave orders that the American millionaire should be excluded from the borders of the principality. Now, as all the world knows, the palace at Monaco stands on a great rock overhanging the Mediterranean. Mr. Bennett's yacht lay near at hand, and after the quarrel he went on board and spent the night in steaming up and down in front of the castle with the fog-horn blowing every other minute. The disturbed Prince next morning made peace with his old friend, and Mr. Bennett returned to Monaco.

Somebody appears to be still interested in defending the murderers of Er. Cronin. Efforts are still being made, by press interviews and otherwise, to throw the detectives off the scent, to persuade them that they have the wrong men in custody, to lead them to believe that the real murderers are far away, and to suggest false clews to draw them away from the true ones. It has been observed, perhaps, that while the Clan-na-Gael Society is vehemently protesting its innocence of the terrible charge that it procured Cronin's death, it is doing little or nothing to disprove it by hunting up the culprits and delivering them to justice. It should have facilities for order, if not acting under its instructions.

AN INDIAN "CRY-DANCE"

OVER THE DEAD BODY OF TOM BUSHYHEAD.

Scion of the Digger Tribe in Mariposa County-Murdered by "Squaw Man"-A Strange, Weird and Woful Ceremonial.

WAWOONA (Mariposa County, Cal.) June 15.—[Special Correspondence of The Times.] The tourists at this pretty little stopping-off place en route to the Yosemite Valley had yesterday something more than is found in the guide books. It was an Indian "cry-dance," which is something similar to a "wake," only that it is more so. a "wake," only that it is more so.
During the several previous days there had been bad blood between Tom Bushyhead, a red man, and James Lawrence, a pale face. Bushyhead is a grandson of the chief of the Walla Walla or Digger tribe, now infesting this region, and is the infesting this region, and is the "terror of Wawoona." He has a "terror" of Wawoona." He has a record, having served a term in the County Jail for thrashing his wife, another for resisting an officer, and still another for stabbing a red brother nine times in a drunken row. He whipped his wife about two weeks ago, and she left him. Lawrence is a "squaw man," having married an Indian woman, and accidentally killed his brother in Los Angeles many years ago. He is a brother dentally killed his brother in Los Angeles many years ago. He is a brother of Henry Lawrence, who killed a man in this county several years ago by shooting him in the back, and afterwards lived in San Francisco as a notary public and kind of a lawyer. Such is the history of these two characters—one an Indian 'bully,' the other a good-for-nothing, drunken loafer. The bad feeling culminated Wednesday afternoon by Lawrence shooting 'Indian Tom,' otherwise known as Tom Bushyhead. Tom had threatened Lawrence and others, but at the rence and others, but at the moment he was shot, the Indian was sober, had not been at all demonstrative, was unarmed, and was just coming across the creek from the Indian will be the state of the sta dian village to the hotel to sell a string of fish, the result of his day's labor, the principal means of livelihood of the Diggers at this station. Shortly after Tom died, The Times correspondent went over to the Indian village, which is situated just across the creek from this "station," or village of Wawoona. The Chief invited me to view the corpse, and the sister of deceased removed the shroud. The Indian had been removed from the cabin and his personal effects, clothing, etc., were taken out and placed in a pile preparatory to burning. Formerly these Indians burned the bodies, but they have so far advanced in civilization that they now only burn the personal effects of the deceased, and tear down the house in which he died. an that was earthly of Tom vanished in the grave and in smoke.

Among the mourners were two of Lawrence's sons, half-breeds, weeping at the grave of their father's victim. The trouble was, of course, about a woman. A few months ago, when Tom whipped his wife, she left him. Since then he has been making love to, or at, the half-breed daughter of Lawrence, who objected to the match, as Tom was very cruel, especially to his squaws. Tom threatened to kill Lawrence, and on several occasions started out to bring in his scalp, but at this time was not prepared, and Lawrence evidently was awaiting his opportunity. Lawrence was released on his own recognizance until next Monday, when the examination will be held.

A "death cry" was to have been in the grave and in smoke.

Monday, when the examination will be held.

A "death cry" was to have been held here about two weeks ago, in honor of a red brother who died doing the State some service at San Quentin. But, owing to Tom's reputation as a fighter and a bulldozer, only a few Indians came in, and as there was not enough to get up a first-class "cry" the ceremonial was postponed. Strangely enough, the "cry" was had at last over the body of the man who had prevented the rite being held over a departed red brother.

BARGAIN SALE OF PARASOLS! Ever Witnessed in the City.

This sale will continue until June 22, giving the out of town people a chance to attend this sale. Our present prices are as low as the very lowest, quality considered; but this week we propose to break the lowest record by placing our mammoth stock upon the market at a 20 per cent. discount, which means one-fifth (1-5) off our regular price. During this week nothing reserved in this stock. All new styles and no auction trash. We have never made a business of making discount sales, but having from 700 to 900 styles it is impossible to describe them as well as pub lish the seven to nine hundred prices. We mean to make our prices through this entire stock uniformly low, so we adopt this discount sale. Never has there been as fresh and clean a stock of Parasols offered in Los Angeles at a sale or at as low prices since its history as a city as now. If you don't attend this sale you will surely regret it. By extremely low prices we not only boom this department but the entire house. We are still ahead, and intend not only to keep prices down on good dry goods, but also to give the poor a chance to buy high-grade goods as well as the rich. We have always contended for a genuine article, genuine bargains and genuine treatment. Our aim in this sale is to double our business and to make our profits on the aggregate.

We never have and never will buy auction goods, believing them high at any price. It gives us great pleasure to be able to offer the great thinking people of Southern California so choice, so genuine a stock of Parasols. As we wish to emphasize, NO TRASH, NO AUCTION GOODS, will you come and look?

Raceland last year was at the top of the tree, but the handicapper, in awarding him 120 pounds to carry, has certainly handicapped him up to his best form. He must certainly be dangerous, but he will find a formidable opponent in Senator Hearst's 4-year-old mare, Gorgo, who, with only 110 pounds on her back, ought to finish first. Bella B. should get the place, with Raceland close up.

Preparations for the Celebration

Going Ahead.
Preparations are being steadily ushed forward for the celebration in this city. The Decoration, Printing at the headquarters and formulated at the headquarters and formulated a plan which will be presented at the meeting of the Executive Committee, which will be held at 7:30 tonight, at the Union League rooms.

Several leading business-houses have signified their intention to participate in the parade with a magnificent display of goods. A general programme has not been planned yet, but the intention of the committee is to have a parade in the morning, literary exercises in the afternoon, antique horribles about 4 o'clock p.m. and a grand display of fireworks in the evening.

Owners of private dwellings and business-houses are especially requested to commence to decorate as early as possible—not to leave everything until the last moment.

The Subscription Committee of the Fourth of July celebration will make the rounds of the city to-day asking contributions to make the celebration a success. They bespeak the kind and patriotic consideration of citizens.

Today suggests Waterloo, as yesterday recalled Bunker Hill. When Napoleon regained the throne in March, 1815, he could wring from ex-hausted France but 200,000 men to meet the million soldiers of the allies. His quick and brilliant assaults on the separate bodies of Prussians and British at Ligny and Quatre Bras, on June 16th, were movements marked by all his brilliant military genius. In the greater battle of Waterloo the advantage was still his in striking the divided forces of his enemies, and the arrival of Blücher, while his own ieutenant remained away from the field, alone snatched victory from his grasp. The battle of Waterloo, according to Alison, was fought by 80,000 French and 250 guns, and 67,000 English, Hanoverians and Belgians with 156 guns, to which the large forces of Blücher were subsequently added, and contributed to Wellington's victory. The total loss of the allies in this engagement was 22,378, of whom 4172 were killed. It was considered to the subsequent was 22,378, of whom 4172 were killed. sidered at the time a very sanguinary

THE HISTORIAN GROTE. The history of Greece is now read in the volumes of George Grote, the celebrated English historian of German extraction, who was born in Kent in 1794. He entered his father's banking-house, devoting all his leisure to study. In 1823 he began collecting the materials for his "History of Greece." His share in the agitation for the passage of the Reform Bill of 1832 caused him, after its enactment, to be elected. him, after its enactment, to be elected to Parliament for the city of London. His career in the House was chiefly remarkable for his annual motion for the ballot. He retired from the banking-house in 1843, and devoted himself exclusively to his history, the last of the twelve volumes of which appeared in 1856. Grote died June 18, 1871.

CLEMENT L. VALLANDIGHAM. What is known in American politics as the "new departure," undertaken by the Democratic party nearly twenty by the Democratic party nearly twenty years ago, was the result, to a great extent, of the labors of Clement L. Vallandigham of Ohio, who was born in 1812. He was educated at Jefferson College, Ohio, and admitted to the bar in 1842. He gave much time to politics and journalism, and from 1857 to 1863 was a member of Congress. His opposition to the policy of the Administration caused his arrest by order of Burnside, and a court-martial order of Burnside, and a court-martial sentenced him to imprisonment during the war, but this sentence was commuted by President Lincoln to banishment beyond the lines of the army. His death, June 18, 1871, was occasioned by the accidental discharge of a pistol which he was manipulating before a jury to show how the death of a party, for whose murder one of his clients was on trial, had been occasioned. Vallandigham's tatal accident occurred precisely in the manner that he was endeavoring to demonstrate had been the case with his client's alleged victim. This trophe removed a very prominent figure from the politics of Ohio.

REV. DR. MATTHEW SIMPSON, late Bishop of the M. E. Church, was born in Ohio in 1811. He began the born in Ohio in 1811. He began the study of German at 8, and in the following year went through the Bible in that language. He graduated at Meadville, Penn., in 1832, took a degree of medicine in 1833, and entered the ministry in the same year. He was a professor of Natural Science at Meadville in 1837, and after occupying a chair in the Indiana Asbury University, he became editor of the Western Christian Advocate in 1848, and was elected a Bishop in 1852. Bishop Simpson visited the Methodist missions of Syria and the East in 1863 and those of Mexico in 1874. He was an intimate friend of President Lincoln, and his zeal and influence proved of great value to the Government during the war. He was an eloquent preacher and an indefatigable worker. He passed the latter years of his life in Philadelphia, where he died June 18, 1884, from exhaustion caused by great age and overwork. Bishop Simpson wrote "A Hundred Years of Methodism." and edited a cyclopedia of Methodism." study of German at 8, and in the folodism.
